THE "ONE MAN'S FAMILY" FAMILY

A special interest club has been formed for those with interest in the classic program, "One Man's Family." A number of fans and former cast members were very positive about the idea of such a group and it launched in early 1996.

One Man's Family, the day to day, multi-generational story of the Barbour Family living in the Sea Cliff section of San Francisco, was one of the best and longest running dramatic series during the Golden Age of radio.

Written and produced by the talented and creative Carlton E. Morse, the show quickly won the hearts of millions of Americans from coast to coast. The program had a consistent point of view. It considered the strength and vitality of the Family to be the essential cornerstone of American democracy.

While occasionally considered "preachy" by some, the show presented carefully developed characters in a production that seemed absolutely real. It was on radio from April 29, 1932 until May 8, 1959.

JOIN THE "FAMILY" ...JOIN THE "FAMILY" ...JOIN THE "FAMILY"

Do you like One Man's Family? Or perhaps you want to know more? According to co-organizer Mike Sprague, "The purpose is to link together the large number of people who love One Man's Family, and to preserve the marvelous history associated with this long running program."

The Family has already begun such things as:

- *Collecting and sharing stories and experiences of everyday fans about their meetings with cast members, Carlton Morse... And it has been interesting to hear about how OMF entered into members lives, families etc.
- *Collecting memories and experiences of any actor or other professional associated with OMF. These will be recorded on audio and video tape in as short a time frame as possible and excerpts shared with the membership.
- Family Ties*, a quarterly newsletter to link up everyone.
- *Family Reunions, the first of which is at the November SPERDVAC OTR convention in Los Angeles This brings together OTR fans and performers in a relaxed, informative setting.
- *Considerations for a complete master lending library, under the auspices of The Family.
- *Production of a definitive log with more detail than anything previously done.

Membership dues $12

Members will receive: 1. An OMFF Membership card 2. ongoing updates 3. Family Ties newsletter AND 4. the fun of being hooked up with a bunch of people who share a strong interest with you, folks who know what it means when you say "Yes, yes" or when you want to discuss the perils of Clifford's life or the meanness of Rexford Frome or... Anyone who can, should feel free to send donations to help the launch.
